Description

Javea Pueblo. In the heart of the Old Town, within the ancient walls (parts of which still feature in the cobbled streets). This property was modernised some 20 years ago, maintaining Tosca stone features but mixing them with modern features, for example, the open staircases. A charming home. Access through the front door (double) leads into the living area, with dining room beyond (guest toilet to the left). Next to the dining area (with pretty alcoves) is the modern kitchen with natural light supplied via a perspex connection with the roof terrace!

From the living area an open staircase (store room at the base) takes you to a good sized landing (suitable as office space) giving way to a double bedroom ( with Juliette balcony), shower room, and store cupboard. Bedroom is large with good wardrobe space
